

Need-blind Colleges (as of May 2010)

Note:

- Need-blind policies do not necessarily apply to international, transfer, and wait-listed students. See specific policies of the colleges listed below.
- Being need-blind and meeting full demonstrated need are not the same thing, but many of the colleges listed below do promise to meet full demonstrated need.
- Many other colleges may meet full need for strong students and/or be need-blind for most of their applicants. For example, many colleges exercise need-awareness only late in the process when they're splitting hairs for the last few seats.
- Public universities are need-blind, but they don't promise to meet full demonstrated need.
